Care Partner Chronicles...

We're honored to share a heartfelt story from Eric and Peter, whose mother has been a Touching Hearts at Home client for over two years. After their father passed and their mother's Alzheimer's progressed, Eric and Peter, both living out of state, needed a way to support her without the disruption of moving her away from home. They were initially concerned that finding the right Care Partner might be challenging, but from day one, our team found the perfect match. Her Care Partner quickly became a trusted presence in her life, helping with daily medications, appointments, and companionship, which gave Eric and Peter peace of mind.

Because of our Care Partner's genuine connection and support, their mother has been able to remain in her home, maintaining her independence and quality of life. Now, as she transitions to assisted living, the Care Partner has made this next step a positive one, giving her something to look forward to. It's stories like these that reinforce our mission at Touching Hearts at Home—providing compassionate, reliable care that truly makes a difference.

The Heart of Homecare

November is full of gratitude and here at Touching Hearts we are grateful for so much. We are so fortunate to have the strong relationships we hold in the community as well as the significant connections we make with our clients and care partners every day. This fall we have had so many wonderful experiences with our clients such as apple picking at Schutts Cider Mill. Nothing says fall like fried cakes, cider and apples!

This month, we will be showing our gratitude with festive fall treats for our partners and referral sources. We will also be hosting a “Make Your Own Thanksgiving Centerpiece” for our clients and care partners here at the office. They will come enjoy coffee, cider and donuts while putting together a beautiful centerpiece to bring to Thanksgiving dinner.
